THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 13.

WM. RYSOM GRACIE, "the last of the Stuarts," died in New York last week. We thought that unhappy and decidedly immoral royal family extinct, but Mr. Gracie claimed to be the "one more unfortunate" who ended the line, and his title was William the Fifth, King of England. In his own belief he was the son and last male issue of the "Pretender."

"He is described as a man of powerful frame, florid face, with a venerable appearance, fine blue eyes, and had a plentiful head of white hair. His features and carriage were of the true Stuart type. He had the oval face, peculiar chin, frank and merry eye, and all the appearance of careless bonhommie which were characteristic of that ill-fated race.'

He was a gentleman of some means, and could afford to indulge his whim. Though he always strenuously asserted his royal birth, it is asserted that his father was a Scotchman, and only a distant connection of the house of Stuart. -Baltimore Gazette.

HE NEVER SMILES.-The Christian Leader presents a portrait for the contemplation of the minister who "never smiles."

He is a man of ability and of no mean ac quirements. He preaches well, and his life does not belie his doctrine. But he has the habit of taking a severe view of nearly all questions and of everybody's conduct. He is very serious. He maintains an impenetrable rigidity and immovable sobriety. The conviction grows on his people that he believes mirth the unpardonable sin. He sometimes preaches about cheerfulness, but it is always in a way to make it seem the most solemn of subjects. In a word he allows himself to become an embodied moral cloud casting an unwelcome shadow over every home he enters, and moving about his parish a grim extinguisher of light and joy when he should be the inspirer of both.

Relief for the Poor.

The Relief Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association would respectfully announce to the benevolent of the city that they are now prepared to commence the usual winter distribution of their bounty.

Supplies in money, clothing, groceries, pro-visions, wood and shoes, will be thankfully re-ceived, duly acknowledged and judiciously bestowed. All articles will be received at the office of the
